DAILY GAZETTE.

REMARKABLE INCIDENTS OF THE BATTLE OF FAIR OAKS.—The Springfield (Mass.) Republican says:

Adjutant Oliver Edwards returned to his home in this city on Wednesday morning, having been granted a furlough from Gen. Couch's staff on account of ill health. He has revived rapidly since leaving Virginia, and hopes to return in season for the next battle. Adjutant Edwards left the federal camp near Fair Oaks on Monday morning. The men of the 10th Massachusetts in camp are generally well, and every one who is able to lift a finger thirsts eagerly for another fight. They are now held as a reserve under Lieut. Col. Decker. Last Sunday afternoon they had a skirmish with the rebels in which 30 of our men were killed and wounded. They are at the very extreme left of our lines, in a very important position, and occupy entrenchments and rifle pits. The reason given for the surprise of Gen.

Casey's division on Saturday is, that it was stationed so near the enemy's main body that our pickets could not be thrown out far in advance, and the sudden dash of the rebels could not therefore be foreseen or fully prepared for. On the first day the entire Union army numbered only 30,000 men, while the rebels had a least 75,000; and on the second day, when our reinforcements had come up, we were still inferior in numbers, having only 50,000 to the enemy's 75,000. The killed and wounded on the rebel side must be for more numerous than ours, and must reach 12,000 or 15,000. while the federal loss was not 6,000.

Our artillery was admirably served and cut through the rebel ranks like a keen scythe through grass. But they fought well, with dash and determination, and could not have been beaten by any other troops in the world, except their northern brethren. During the entire battle no stragglers at all from the Union ranks were to be seen on the field. Every man stood up to his work. Most of those who fell dead were in some attitude of loading or firing; their brains were so intent on their business that the muscles became rigid in the very posture in which the men were struck down.

The following incidents are some of the many striking ones that occurred in this two days engagement. A member of the 10th regiment (name unknown) was sur rounded by four rebels, who ordered him to surrender. He coolly replied that "he rather guessed not," and immediately shot one, bayoneted two and broke the skull of the last one with the butt of his musket. This certainly seems Manchausenish.

offered to pilot them through the bushes, and earefully brought them round among our own pickets. The aummons, "Who comes there?" was answered by the captain, "A friend with seven prisoners."— Six men belonging to the 62 New York regiment (Anderson Zonaves,) hid themselves on Saturday in their own camp, under some bushes and laid perfectly quiet all night undiscovered by the rebel troops who had taken the camp. Next day, when our forces drove the rebels out with great slaughter, ing notice, but those who knew its subject will mourn one of the noblest victims of this bloody struggle; so small is the circle to which the heroic youth is known in this country, and so highly was he esteemed where he was known.

Capt. Dunka was a native of Wallachia. of Hungarian parentage, and about 24 years of age when he fell. Having received a liberal education, and in early youth imbibed the principles of freedom, he, in June 1860 joined the army of the Italian liberator during the march through Northeastern Sicily, entered the ranks of the Hungarian egion as hussar, crossed over with it into Italy, and had an honorable share in the toils, perils and glory of that campaign, which culminated in the battle of the Volturno and secured the freedom of Naples. He was promoted by Garabaldi to the rank of captain of cavalry, and won the friendship of the most distinguished Hungarian officers in Italy, and after a long pause in military operations in that country, together with some of his companious in arms, came over to this country towards the close of the last year, eager to fight here, too, the battle of freedom.—N. Y. Evening Post.

THE HISTORY OF A REGIMENT,--- When the Maine 11th passed through Broadway last November, the "Hallalujah Chorns" was chanted by 850 sturdy fellows, few persons who saw them could have anticipated that those tall lumbermen would, in a twelve-month, be almost decimated. Arriving in Washington, they built those famous burracks which were visited by so many strangers; but in spite of the fine shelter the typhoid fever was soon busy in their ranks, and when they went down with the following described mortga, ed pramises, to wit: Casey's division they were only 750 strong all that tract, purel or lot of land situate in the city of Janesyllie, county of Rock and state of Wisconsin. the Penjusula they lived on hard biscuit and water for five weeks, owing the inesticute the treatment of the said find and twenty-seven (127) in Smith, Balley & Stone's addition to the village (now city) of Juneville, according to the recorded plot thereof, unless the amount due on the plant of the collision of the said find and twenty-seven (127) in Smith, Balley & Stone's addition to the village (now city) of Juneville, according to the recorded plot thereof, unless the amount due on the collision of the village (now city) of Juneville, according to the recorded plot thereof, unless the amount due of the collision of the coll -one-eighth died of disease. While on when they took up the double quick for Williamsburgh the men fell on the road and died from sheer exhaustion. At the battle of Fair Oaks they numbered, fit for duty, only 180 men. One-half of this number were in action, and were nearly all killed and wounded.—N. Y. Evening Post.

REMARKABLE INCIDENTS OF THE BATTLE FAIR OAKS.—The Springfield (Mass.) Republican says:

home in this city on Wednesday morning, having been granted a furlough from Gen. Couch's staff on account of ill health. He has revived rapidly since leaving Virginia, and hopes to return in season for the next battle. Adjutant Edwards left the federal camp near Fair Oaks on Monday morning.

The men of the 16th Massachusetts in camp are generally well, and every one who

The reason given for the surprise of Gen. Casey's division on Saturday is, that it was stationed so near the enemy's main body that our pickets could not be thrown out far in advance, and the sudden dash of the rebels could not therefore be foreseen or fully prepared for. On the first day the en-tire Union army numbered only 30,000 men, while the rebels had a least 75,000; and on the second day, when our reinforce ments had come up, we were still inferior in numbers, having only 50,000 to the enemy's 75,000. The killed and wounded on the rebel side must be far more numerous the rebel side must be for more numerous than ours, and must reach 12,000 or 15,000, while the federal loss was not 6,000.

Our artillery was admirably served and cut through the rebel ranks like a keen systhe through grass. But they fought well, with dash and determination, and could not have been beaten by any other roops in the world, except their northern brethren. During the entire battle no strag-glers at all from the Union ranks were to be seen on the field. Every man stood up to his work. Most of those who fell dead were in some attitude of loading or firing their brains were so intent on their business that the muscles became rigid in the very posture in which the men were struck nia regiment, having been taken prisoner by a party of six rebels who were carrying a wounded officer to the rear, very politely offered to pilot them through the bushes, and earefully brought them round among our own pickets. The summons, "Who comes there?" was answered by the captain, "A friend with seven prisoners,"— Six men belonging to the 62 New York reg-iment (Anderson Zonavez,) hid themselves on Saturday in their own camp, under some onshes and laid perfectly quiet all night undiscovered by the rebel troops who had ta-ken the camp. Next day, when our forces drove the rebels out with great slaughter, the cunning Zoneves turned up all right, and captured seven of the enemy as prisoners.

CAPT. NICHOLAS DUNKA,-Gen. Frenont's official report of the hattle of Cross Keys, published to-day, contains, among others, the following announcement; "Of my staff I lost a good officer killed, Few readers will bestow upon this dignified expression of regret more than a passing notice, but those who knew its subject will mourn one of the noblest victims of this bloody struggle; so small is the circle to which the heroic youth is known in this country, and so highly was he esteemed where he was known.

liberal education, and in early youth im-bibed the principles of freedom, he, in June 1860 joined the army of the Italian liberator during the march through Northeastern Sicily, entered the ranks of the Hungarian legion as hussar, crossed over with it into Italy, and had an honorable share in the toils, perils and glory of that campaign, which culminated in the battle of the Voiturno and secured the freedom of Naples. He was promoted by Garabaldi to the rank of captain of cavalry, and won the friend-ship of the most distinguished Hungarian officers in Italy, and after a long pause in military operations in that country, together with some of his companious in arms, came over to this country towards the close of the last year, eager to fight here, too, the battle of freedom.—N. Y. Evening Post.

THE HISTORY OF A REGIMENT, --- When the Maine 11th passed through Broadway last November, the "Hallalujah Choras" was chanted by 850 stordy fellows, few per sons who saw them could have anticipated that those tall lumbermen would, in a twelve-month, be almost decimated. Arriving in Washington, they built those famous barracks which were visited by so many strangers; but in spice of the fine shelter the typhoid fever was soon busy in their and when they went down with Casey's division they were only 750 strong -one eighth died of disease. While on the Peninsula they lived on hard biscuit and water for five weeks, owing the inefficiency or rescality of some one, so that when they took up the donois quick for Williamsburgh the men fell on the road and died from sheer exhaustion. At the battle of Fair Oaks they numbered, fit for duty, only 180 men. One balf of this number were in action, and were nearly all killed and wounded.—N. F. Evening Post. OMAHA, N. T., June 16. The overland emigrant escort, sent by the overnment, left this morning for the west. The emigration was the largest over before known. Some 6,000 teams crossed the riv-

department a report from the lieutenant commanding the United States gunboas Senece, at Mayport Mills, St. Johns river florida, announcing the death of Licut John G. Sprotzen on the 8th of June. He left in command of three boats, with Acting Master J. H. Rogers, Master's Mate Fish will perhaps be of but little account to his | companied by 30 men from the Patroon. The object was to capture a man named Geo. Huston, a captain of a company of rebels now in the vicinity of Black Creek I was informed that Huston boasted of having hung a negro pilot who was captured at the time of the death of Lieut. Com'g Budd, near Smyrna. On that necount I wished him as a prisoner for the purpose of recov ering the general tranquility of persons along this river, most of whom, I doubt not, would gladly acknowledge the government of the United States, were they not in fear of violence from men of this character, He landed at early daylight and proceeded rapidly with his party to the house of Huston. The latter, it appears, was apprised of his coming, and met him at the door. armed with a double barreled gan, two pis tols and a bowie-knife. Upon the demand for Huston to surrender himself a prisoner, Huston fired at him with a pistol, the ball entering high up on the left breast, killing him instantly. Huston discharged the other pistol and gun without further injury to There are some 1,500 rebels and Indians anybody, and was instantly wounded in four places and brought on board. He is sup

The General thoroughy inspected Bolivar Heights and the adjacent country, and, no doubt, his batteries could be planted advantageously, which would most effectually frustrate any designs of the enemy upon this position. From the feeling exhibited by the seces sionists in the vicinity of Martinsburg and Winchester, some credit may be attached to the rumor that Jackson has again been argely reinforced; but while I have confidence in the ability of Premont to successfully cope with Jackson in the valley, it is believed that even in the event of his meeting with a reverse, the preparations which Generals Banks and Sigol are making in the vicinity of Winchester will render any success which the rebels may achieve but l'otomac at this point was completed this morning, and its security tested by the passage of a heavy burden train. #### Adjournment of the Legislature.

We learn from Madison that the legislature adjourned last evening. The public is not inconsolable in view of this event. Death of Dr. A. I. Bennett.

The announcement of the death of Dr. A. I. Bennett, of Turtle, in this county, will be received with profound regret by the people of Rock county, and the state at large. He represented the southern district of this county, for many years, in the state Senate, in which body he was an active, useful and highly respected member. Dr. Bennett was a model citizen-a good neighbor, a firm friend, honest and intelligent in every private and public capacity, and a true man in every respect. The community in which he lived will sincerely mourn bis loss.

From Fort Scott.

Our correspondent, O. A. C., at Fort Scott, under date of June 10th, writes that the forces stationed at that place have been ordered to Fort Gibson, in the Indian Territory. The division numbered eight regiments, and one battery. Among these regiments is the 9th Wisconsin. They are to visit the Cherokee country. , Col. Saloman, of the 9th, brother of the governor of Wisconsin, is acting brigadier general. The hattery attached to this division, an Ohio regiment of cavalry, and four companies of the 9th Wisconsin, instead of proceeding directly to Fort Gibson, diverged towards Springfield, Mo., and coming up with about thousand rebels, defeated them and captured about a thousand mules, and many wagons containing supplies. The rebels retreated into the brush to avoid the cavalry and artillery, but the 9th Wisconsin boys went in after them, and pursued them with great energy and bravery. The Ninth Wisdiscipline. The health of the men has been remarkable, as but five deaths have occurred in it since its organization. Our correspondent attributes this immunity from sickness to the care and skill of the surgeon, Dr. Nauman, who now has charge of the general hospital at Fort Scott, where he has introduced many beneficial changes. It is no doubt true that a surgeon of a regiment may do very much towards preserving the health of the men, but he must have the co-operation of the officers, especially the colonel, which he no doubt has had in this case, as Col. Saloman has the reputation of being one of our best officers. The general hospital at Fort Scott has now about 150 inmates, who are generally do-

REPORT OF THE INVESTIGATING COMMIT-THE ON WAR EXPENDITURES .- The Madison Journal of yesterday says: The report of Mr. Platto, who has been the investigating committee to all intents, was read in the legislature to day. We reserve comments, except in general terms, till we see the document in print. It is violent and rhetorical in its language. Only the democratic members of the committee sign it. Prepared with special reference to ulterior po. litical purposes, it is about as fair presentation of the subject, as far as we can judge, as is the argument of a feed attorney for the side he advocates.

One or two facts disclose the animus of he majority of the committee. The republican members were refused an opportunity to look at the report. It was withheld until the last day of the session, and until the last hour when general business was permitted. Then it was read. Thus the minority was prevented from bringing in a report, and the effect now will doubtless be to print and send out the majority report unaccompanied by that of the minority.

A few days before the vessel sailed there was a funeral in the city, and the coffin was deposited after the usual ceremonies in a tomb. From information which General Butler had received, he ordered an examination of the coshin to be made afterward, as the cause of death of the person which it was said to contain, was not satisfactory to him. Correspondence of the Jamesville Daily Gazette From the Second Regiment of Cavalry.

SPRINGFIELD, Mo., June 10, 1862. Jefferson City to this place by battalions. The first, under command of Major Miller. left Jefferson on the 23d of May and came directly through. The second, under command of Lieut. Col. Stevens, left on the 26th and traveled a different route from the first. Stopped on Piney Creek to hunt up a band of rebels who had captured and burned a train of 17 army wagons loaded with commissary stores, a few days before, coming from Rolla to this place, the distance being 110 miles. But the plundering scamps had made good their escape. After some two days scouring the woods, Col. Stevens concluded to resume his march towards Springfield by way of Lebanon, and here the second battalion came up with the third, under command of Col. Washburn, who had left Jefferson on the 29th. The third battalion left Lebanon on the 7th, and reached this place in two days and a half; the second intended leaving the next morning, and will no doubt be here to day. Thus we have marched 180 miles from Jefferson City to this place, all moving on different routes. No misfortune of a serious character has occurred in either of the battalions on the I was much disappointed in finding so much poor, barren and rough land as we have passed through, and so wild a country. In going south from Jefferson City, on the road to Lebanon, the first 40 miles is almost wilderness, very rough and rocky. The land is also very poor, which, with the poor, ignorant, ragged, starved secesh that prowl around, makes it one of the most God-forsaken regions my eyes ever beheld. Here, in these barrens we took a miserable old secesh. We had encamped near his house the first night. After starting the next morning, a negro boy, some 14 years of age, met the advance guard and informed them his master had powder secreted. A detachment of men was immediately sent back, and invited the old scamp to accompany the battalion, which he could not very well refuse under such a pressing invitation. He had been judge of the county court of Miller county, and was known as "Judge Fowler," yet a gennine old "butternut gentleman," "one of the olden time." When first arrested, he of course, knew nothing of any powder; he had " taken the oath " and was sound enough on the Union. But after camping the following night, and realizing, sure enough, the Yankees had him " for keeps," he thought he had better disclose the matter to the Colonel, which he did, so far as his own hiding was concerned. The next morning he was taken back by a guard, to whom he showed the cause of all his troubles. Some of the powder had been secreted in a hollow log and spoiled; another lot he had hidden under the floor of an old meeting house, and this lot was in good condition. The boys loaded up what he said was the "whole pile," and brought him consinis highly spoken of for their excellant along and overtook the train the same night. We brought him to Lebanon, from which place he will be taken to St. Louis. This powder was a part of a lot that Gov. Jackson had sent out to Tuscumbia, about 40 miles from Jefferson, for safe keeping; but the rebels in whose charge it was left began to fear it was not safe and "divided up," and this lot we got was only a portion of the amount first secreted. It is a matter of Prisoners are being brought in here ev ery day, and such poor, miserable looking creatures you have seldom seen. There are quite a number in the woods, armed with shot guns and such other old trash as they have been able to pick up. Five rebels were seen in the road not more than five miles in advance of our battalion, when we were in the neighborhood of Lobanon. -They were mounted and had two old shot guns, an old rifle, and two custy sabres. We were not able to find them as they could very easily secret themselves in the bushes.

There are some 1,500 rebels and Indians reported on the western boundary of the state, but when we reach Cassville to which place we have been ordered they will probably fall back. Two companies of the first battalion, under Major Miller, left here this morning for Cassville. He left our squadron at Bolivar, as he came through, who are picking up rebels every day, and our squadron has been ordered to remain here as Gen. Brown's body guard. There are not many troops here now, there being nothing for them to do. The only rebel bands of any strength in the state are down on the Arkansas line, or on the western border. The rebellion is thoroughly crushed in this state, and if the secesh meet with no more success out of the state than has recently crowned their efforts, there will never be any serious difficulty here with

A great number have returned from the secesh army have thrown down their arms, taken the oath to support the constitution, given security for their good behavior, and are living in a quiet way.

The rebellion has made many desolate homes in Missouri as well as elsewhere. In some neighborhoods we have passed through, full one half of the houses were razed and the lands deserted, while some remain and have barely planted enough of corn to keep soul and body together another year. The houses that have been burned and the farms deserted have belonged to both union and secesh. The union men first suffered, then after the federal per cent.

army came in they cleaned out the secesh. I have often while riding along over hills. poor ridges, and barren soil, been puzzled I think I promised to give you some ideas | to know what could induce any man living of the country, and matters connected with in this region to quit his home, destitute as our march after we had arrived at Spring. It may have been, to go into the rebel army. field; but if my letter shall be nothing more They have no negroes, and I presume than a few disconnected ideas it will release | would not know what to do with them if me, whether it may prove interesting to you they had-so that was not the cause. I or not. Our regiment was moved from generally find what few men that have negroes through here have stayed at home to take care of them, or of themselves if possible. I cannot solve the problem in any other way than to charge it to their ignorance and their constitutional adaptability to robbery and theft. Common schools here are about as rare a thing as in Central Africa. The first settlers or squatters came from Tennessee or Kentucky. They never knew much and are determined their children shall not surpass them in knowledge, and if ever ignorance was bliss it is here among those who do not appear to care how the world wags.

I am giving you a very dark picture of society through here, but after all I must confess I am unable to do the subject justice. I hope to be able to make a better report of some portion of the state before I return. I know there are parts of Missouri that are much better than the country between here and Jefferson City.

Springfield, from appearances, was a very pretty little city, before the war broke out, and contained about 3,000 inhabitants. The location is beautiful and the surround ing country for a few miles not uninviting. The principal buildings are now crowded with army stores and surrounded with mule teams, and the streets are full of soldiers. charches are used for commissary stores and the best residences for heapitals and head quarters for officers. Uncle Sam appropriates to himself here just as he pleases.

Our tents are pitched a few rods from the spot where Fremont's body guard made their heroic charge on the rebels : 250 men led by the brave Zaygoni completely routed 2.400 rebels and drove them from the town; 50 of the guard remained in the town over night undisturbed. They lost 15 men in the charge. The rebels left 35 dead in the streets, and managed to carry off quite a number severely wounded. These reports gather from men living here who saw the vhole affair.

We are busy getting ready for a march of 80 miles further. Our wagons need denounce the appointments of Gev. Here some repairs and the horses need shoring. dall generally, as lacking in physics, than Forage for horses is quite scarce, but the tal, and moral qualifications; payment as Post Quartermaster manages to have plenty planent to Quarterms for G. S. of F. of feed yet. Corn is worth 40 cents per bushel. There is neither hay nor oats .--Our horses do very well on corn and grass. yet the grazing is not first rate around here.

If there are any secesh in Missouri we intend to find them or drive them out of the state. It is probable, after we got to Cassville, we shall be ordered to lattle Rock, Arkansas; yet we all hope for a cessation of hostilities that we may return to our respective home in quietness and J. C. Metcale.

Last Night's Report.

OMAHA, N. T., June 15. The overland emigrant escort, sent by the overnment, left this morning for the west. The emigration was the largest over before known. Some 6,000 teams crossed the riv er at this point alone. WASHINGTON, June 17.

Com. Dupont has forwarded to the many department a report from the lientenant commanding the United States gunbant Some Union men in the vicinity think it Florida, announcing the death of Lieut. John G. Sprotzen on the 8th of June. left in animand of three heats with Active Master J. H. Rogers, Master's Mate l'ish. and 40 men with small arms. He was accompanied by 30 men from the Patroon. The object was to capture a man named Geo. Huston, a captain of a company of rebels now in the vicinity of Black Creek. was informed that Huston boasted of having hung a negro pilot who was cantured at the time of the death of Lieut. Com'g Dudd, near Smyrna. On that account I wished him as a prisoner for the purpose of recovering the general tranquility of along this river, most of whom, I doubt not. would gladly acknowledge the government of the United States, were they not in fear of violence from men of this character He landed at early daylight and proceeded rapidly with his party to the house of Huston. The latter, it appears, was apprised of his coming, and met him at the door, armed with a double-barroled gun, two pis ole and a bowie-knife. Upon the demand or Huston to surrender himself a prisoner fuston fired at him with a pistol, the half entering high up on the left breast, killing him instantly. Huston discharged the other pistol and gun without further injury to anybody, and was instantly wounded in four places and brought on board. He is suplosed to be mortally wounded.

HARPER'S FERRY, June 15. General Wool, accompanied by his stall and Mr. Garrett, president of the Baltimore and Ohio railroad company, paid a harried risit here to day, arriving in the morning and leaving early in the afternoon. General thorougly inspected Bolivar Heights and the adjacent country, and, no doubt, his practical eye took in many positions where batteries could be planted advantageously, which would most effectually frustrate any lesigns of the enemy upon this position. From the feeling exhibited by the seces-sionists in the vicinity of Martinsburg and Winchester, some credit may be attached o the rumor that Jackson has again been argely reinforced; but while I have confi lence in the ability of Fremont to success fully cope with Jackson in the valley, it is believed that even in the event of his meet ng with a reverse, the preparations which the vicinity of Winchester will render any success which the rebels may achieve but if short duration. The bridge across the Potomac at this point was completed this morning, and its security tested by the passage of a heavy burden train. The road between here and Winchester is being rap idly repaired, and it is believed the govern ment will have its use in a few days, thus greatly facilitating the transmission of supplies to the army in the valley.

Fourth of July Meeting.

At a meeting of the citizens of Janesville, held at the Council room, June 17th, to consider the propriety of celebrating the coming 4th of July, Maj. J. M. May was chosen chairman, and G. R. Curtis secretary. After a free exchange of opinion the following committee was appointed to solicit subscriptions: E. McKey, M. C. Smith, Cyrus Miner, G. R. Cartis, R. I. Pierson and Dr. B. F. Pendleton. On motion O. J. Dearborn was appointed to consult with the Superintendent of the Blind Institute in reference to procuring the brass band of the Institute. The meeting then adjourned till Wednesday evening, the 18th inst., (this evening) to hear the report of the committee, and to adopt such plans and surance, either fire or inland." arrangements as may be thought necessary. Bailey's shoe store has removed, but the Rochester Shoe Store has not, for Revnold's is in the same old place on Milwaukee street, next door to the Rock County jel8d1d-w1 FOURTH OF JULY CELEBRATION .- The preliminary steps being now taken it remains with our citizens to determine whether we shall appropriately, celebrate the day which gave America liberty, the oppressed of the world a home and monarchies an example; or as in past years, let our nation's birthday pass unobserved. Now is the time for all patriotic citizens to be patriotic, and to show our brave volunteers that we prize the government they are fighting to maintain. Let us have a good "old fash ioned celebration," one that the heroes of '76 would be proud to see.

FESTIVAL.-The strawberry festival of the Sabbath school of the Methodist church of this city, takes place this evening at Lappin's Hall. Judging from the extensive preparations made, a good time may be anticipated.

Reynolds has the exclusive agence of the principal shoe manufactories in Rochester, and can sell cheaper than any other man dare sell. je18dawId

FOURTH OF JULY CELEBRATION AT BE-LOIT .- The day will be celebrated at Beloit in an appropriate manner. J. C. Converse, of that city, delivers the oration. We learn that extensive preparations have been made for a genuine old style observance of our national anniversary.

THE LAURS HOSPITAL RELIEF SOCIETY will meet on Thursday, June 19th, from  $1\frac{1}{2}$ to 5½ o'clock P. M., at Mrs. Almira Clark's, west side, eighth door south from the Baptist Church.

MARIA F. CLARK, Secretary.

Reynolds keeps no bayer in the eastern markets, for he has a rich old unclein Rochester that gives him all his goods. Therefore he can sell cheaper than any other live man in the west can sell.

ICE CREAM SALOON .- The ice cream saloon of Ellis and Brother has been thoroughly refitted and furnished, and is now open to the public. Persons wishing to indulge in such luxuries as ice cream, strawberries and confessionery will do well to give them a call. It is a well known fact that they understand their business, and their customers are sure to get their money's worth. Orders sent in to supply parties will be promptly attended to, and satisfaction given in every case. The saloon, as it is now fitted up, is convenient and comfortable, and persons patronizing it will find no difficulty in having their wants supplied. The Rebellion for present reference and future preservation, is the subject of general remark. No work of that nature has yet been offered to the public, and all who wish for information are compelled to grope through the mazes of the rumors, reports, dispatches, letters and editorials of the daily newspapers, to precipitate, from its confused columns, the great facts and incidents of the struggle for the Union.

To meet this want, and to produce a work of perma.

This want of an authentic and therough History of the liebslion, for present reforence and future preservation, is the subject of general remark. No work of that nature has yet been offered to the public, and all who wish for information are compelled to grope through the mazes of the rumors, reports, dispatches, letters and editorials of the daily newspapers, to practipitate, from its confused columns, the great facts and incidents of the struggle for the Union.

To meet this want, and to produce a work of permanent value as well as of present interest, the publisher has arranged for the issue of the history as above set forther in a form and at a price which shall render it acceptable to all.

This history will tell the Sroaz as it is, giving a clear, consecutive narrative of the entire movement, including all the incidents and events in their exact order, and containing the important documents and extracts from remarkable speciels. It will not be a mere diary, nor a more enumeration of dry and naked dates, nor a compilation of slips from newspapers, but will purtray in connected and interesting narrative, therevolutionary steps, as well as the measures of the government.

It will carefully digest all evidence—will sift all rumors and reports—will fix upon facts, and correct so the lasty pararatives of the newspapers.

It will be written in a style suited to its theme—at once graphic, earnest and luminous, introducing such personal and social incidents as may serve to show the relations of individuals and communities to the grand events of the time.

It is true, everybody reads the newspapers, but the reports of the nowapapers are the fragmontary and contradictory children on the moment, and not a correct, connected and complete history. The above publication, afterwards bound in a handsone volume, will be a book for the family, which will be valued like the records of the Warlington, and worthy to be kept or children and grand-children,

Well known to be the best for

Manufacturing Purposes:

We manufacture our own Needles, and would warn all persons using our machines not to buy any others. We know that there are needles sold of the most inferior quality, at higher prices than we charge for the best. The needles sold by us are manufactured aspecially for our machines. A bad needle may render the best machine almost useless. Our customers may rest assured that all our Branch Offices are furnished with the

GENUINE ARTICLE.

In case of small purchases, the money may be sontine postage stamps or bank notes.

—Correspondents will please write their named distinctly. It is all important that we should in each case knew the post office, county and state.

—All persons requiring information about Sewing Machines, their size, prices, working canacities, and the best methods of purchasing, can obtain it by sending to us, or any of our Branch Offices for a copy of

I. M. SINGER & CO.'S GAZETTE, which is a beautifully illustrated Pictorial Paper. R will be sent Gratis

We have made the above Reduction in Prices with the two fold view of benefitting the public and our selves. The public have been swindled by spurious machines made in initation of ours. The metal in them, from the tron casting to the smallest plece, is of poor quality. Their makers have not the means to do their work well. They are hid away in secret places, where it would be impossible to have at their command the proper mechanical appliances. His only by doing a great business, and having extensive manufacturing establishmen's, that good machines can be made at moderate prices. The best designed machines, Badly Made, are always liable to get out of ord-r, and are sure to cost considerable trouble and money to keep them in repair. The qualities to be locked for in a machine are: certainly of correct action at all rains of spead, simplicity of construction, pread durability and rapridity of operation, with the least labor. Machines to consider these essential qualities, must be made of the best metal and finished to perfection. We have the ways and means, on a grand scale, to do this.

The purchasers of machines, whose daily bread it may concern, will find that those having the above qualities not only work well at raprid as well as slow rates of speed, but last long in the finest possible working order. Our machines, as made by us, will carn wore money with less labor than any others, whether is initiation of ours or not. In fact, they are cheaper than any other machine as a gift. We have made the above Reduction in Prices wit
